RESIDENCES AT SEA IN EUROPE

By Renato Schweizer

The World the largest privately-owned residential yacht on earth (aboardtheworld.com), returns to Europe this year to explore the enchanting Mediterranean, undertaking a deep exploration of Western and Northern Europe and the cultural capitals and iconic cities of Casablanca, Barcelona, Venice, Dubrovnik and Rome.

A summer expedition to the Svalbard Archipelago, just 600 nautical miles from the North Pole, offers prime viewing of Arctic wildlife. In autumn, the British Isles Exploration beckons with its remarkable combination of history, rugged coastlines, and visits to Scotland's finest single malt whiskey distilleries.

Gastronomic adventures abound throughout Europe. The World's chefs and sommeliers have arranged exclusive wine tastings and dinners crafted by visiting guest chefs and winemakers that will showcase diverse regional flavours and culinary styles. Spanish winemakers Carles and Mariona Pastrana will host a wine tasting and dinner featuring their Clos de l'Obac wines. An Imperial Heritage Caviar tasting with champagne and vodka is also scheduled along with a multi-course dinner prepared by three Michelin-star Chef Curtis Duffy.

In Barcelona, Residents will explore the Codorniu cava cellars. The oldest family business in Spain and a producer of cava since 1551, Codorniu is the setting for an exclusive cava tasting, gala dinner in the magnificent vaulted cellar and entertainment by a 12-strong guitar orchestra and flamenco fusion performance. In Malaga, a 'behind-the-scenes' look at Estepona's fish auction examines the craftsmanship of artisanal fishing in a scallop marine farm, whilst in Marseille, Residents stop by a ranch in heart of the Camargue wetlands to witness the impressive teamwork and horsemanship of the cowboys as they wrangle long-horned Camargue cattle astride local horses.

A lifestyle aboard The World allows its Residents to explore the planet's most exotic and remote destinations, to more cosmopolitan ports of call – all from the comfort of home. It's the ultimate combination of luxury travel with world-class dining, custom experiences and enriching cultural events – all designed to 'bring the destination alive'.

All 165 homes on board The World are privately owned with a small selection available for re-sale every year.
